Geriatric Dentistry for the 21st Century: What Every Dental Professional Should Know and Do
Speaker: Dr. Elisa Ghezzi

Eliza M. Ghezzi, DDS, PhD provides dental care for residents of assisted living facilities in the Detroit Michigan Metropolitan area. In addition, she is an Adjunct Clinical Assistant Professor in the Department of Cariology, Restorative Sciences, and Endodontics at the University of Michigan (UM) School of Dentistry. She received her DDS (1995) from UM, completed a General Practice Residency (1995-6) at the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Minneapolis, MN, trained in a geriatric dentistry fellowship (1996-8) at UM, and obtained both an MS (2001) in Clinical Research Design and Statistical Analysis and a PhD (2005) in Epidemiology from UM School of Public Health. Dr. Ghezzi serves as the past chair of the Michigan Coalition for Oral Health for the Aging and is a member of the Healthy Aging Committee of the Association for State and Territorial Dental Directors, the Oral Health Workgroup of the Gerontological Society of America, and the American Society for Geriatric Dentistry of the Special Care Dentistry Association. Her research has focused on the effects of oral diseases on systemic health. She has written and lectured extensively on the topic of oral health care for older adults and persons with dementia.

OBJECTIVES:

- To understand treatment planning considerations specific to older patients including restorative and preventive strategies.
- To discuss prevention and treatment management consideration for older patients including sedation and documentation.
- To understand common misconceptions of oral health for aging and critical education to empower patients, caregivers, and healthcare team members.
